DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 40-49, 62 and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claims 40, 62 or 63 are indefinite because the scope of the phrase "cooled condition" or "cooled state" is unknown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Cock's Fine Brews (<http://www.notchturner.com/cocks/frutopen.htm>)(hereinafter Cock) in light of Ashurst (Production and Packaging of Non-Carbonated Fruit Juices and Fruit Beverages (pages 174-6) in view of Line et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 4,355,110)(hereinafter Line). Additional Evidence has been supplied to show that Apple Ale was in production in 1995. See <http://www.newglarusbrewing.com/awards.html>.

The previously cited art teaches that found in the last Office Action. They do not teach the centrifugation of the beer. Line teaches notoriously well known use of a centrifuge for the treatment of cooled wort to remove the trub (see Example 15). It would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art to process the beer of New Glarus or Cock using a centrifuge as taught by Line in order to remove the trub.

6. Claims 40 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the well known mixed drink "Snakebite" in view of Lite.

7. Snakebite teaches that cited previously but does not teach the centrifugation of cooled wort. Line teaches that cited above. It would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art to process of producing Snakebite using a centrifuge as taught by Line in order to remove the trub.

Response to Arguments

8. It is noted that applicants argue that their invention relates to the production of a "common conventional beer." In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicants' invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

9. No claim is allowed.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
